"Onpleasantness."

Several unimportant rows occurred at ton street, yesterday. Beer flowed freely, and it was probably owing to this fact no serious results occurred, as the participants in the numerous little "onpleasantnesses" were too full of beer to be able to hurt anything.

Police Matters.

The police had a quiet time of it yesterday. At the First-street station the names of John Harden, drunk and disperson, and Agness McGuthre (w. c.), disorderly conduct, were registered on the slate. At the jail the slate was clean and unmarked by a single name.

St. George Hotel and Restaurant, This hotel and restaurant, corner of Main and Eighth streets, which is coneted on the European plan, has now a high place in public regard. #### A Young Man Attacked and Killed on the Highway.

A young man named Daniel Johnson was assassinated on Friday night, about eight o'clock, on a highway, almost inside of the corporate limits of Utica, Clark county, Indiana. Young Johnson was riding toward his home on horseback at the time, when he was approached by a man supposed to be George Broy, and before the former had time to suspect his ourpose, the latter shot him with a pistol, rom the effect of which he is thought to have died almost instantly. The shooting occurred near the residence of Mr. Jacob Hobson, who heard the report, and at once ran to the place from which it proceeded, and found young Johnson dead. Broy is strongly suspected of having committed the murder from the fact that he was known to be an enemy to Johnson, and that a feud had existed between the two for a long time. It is also stated that Broy, a short time after the nurder, told several parties that he had killed Johnson. At a late hour Saturday evening we had heard nothing of the arrest of Bray. Our latest information was that he had hidden from the officers in pursuit of him.

A BOGUS STORY.

An Ontrage on Journalism. We printed on Monday last a pathetic ceount of the suicide of Miss Nelly Dorset, at Chicago, together with a touching letter addressed to Geo. H. The Boston Musical Jubilee.

Boston is a great place. It is no wonder that little urehins have been made to see Boston by being held by the ears and lifted off the ground. The people of Boston believe there is no such city in the world; and it is not safe for a visitor to that wonderful city to suggest to one of its inhabitants that London is as large. Paris as fashionable or Frankfort as rich. A Bostonian thinks that Hyde Park is but an insignificant cow-patch compared with Boston Common, and as for Bunker's Hill Monument, it out-tops the spire of Strasburg, the dome of St. Peter's or even the Pyramids of Egypt. Hence the Bostonians, wherever they undertake anything, must do something out of the usual order of things. The grand musical peace jubilee to come off there on the 15th of this month is to be characteristic of Boston. No place but the "Hub" eould have thought of getting up the musical festival as this one is proposed. There never was anything like it and possibly never will be its like again. We have heard of the music of numbers. the music of the spheres, the music of the waters and many kinds of music, but that of this Boston jubilee will be a music never heard of before.

With the true characteristic of the "Hub." the Star Spangled Bauner is to be performed as it never was before. Not content even with the words which have made the anthor immortal, a Bostonian has added another verse which runs thus-And the Star Spangled Banner forever shall a

Now only think of all that! The artillery accom- people, shows a moral weakness on the paniment is after the Russian fashion, and part of President Grant that is worse than may be in honor of our Alaska purchase. If so, the savages of that hyperberean region, including a few polar bears, should be present to be a little tamed by the concord of sweet sounds. Orpheus of old is said to have overcome wild beasts with his pointed. It seems that Fisk knew Boutmusic, and we see not why the harmony of the "Hub" should not do the job for all that is savage in Alaska. This handling of the Star-Spangled Banner is a specimen of the whole of the great Boston jubilee. Everything is to be Bostonian that is done. Even Verdi's anvil chorus is to be done with 1,100 anvils, beaten, among others, by 100 firemen. Any other city would have had blacksmiths beat their anvils, but the "Hub' must have the members of fire companies whacking the anvils, perhaps, with hooks and ladders, instead of sledge-hammers. And then, too, there is papers ridicule Gen. Butler's position on to be a drum, as big as a hogshead, which the question of the Alabama claims. is to be beaten a la Boston. Well, it is all When a leading Radical has succeeded in right, and if the Bostonians can stand the winning the contempt of his own party music they are to have, we can.

We expect to hear of a Bostonian next making additions to the Lord's prayer, which he can get any lower. the ten comandments, the Declaration of Independence, &c., &c. If the "Hub" has not been content with our old Star Spangled Banner, they will not probably be satisfied with anything profane or inspired that has been written outside of Boston. We wonder if Mr. Ball could not favor us with a few additional verses to Homer's Iliad, Milton's Paradise Lost, and a few other good poems that happened to to-day means an indecent scramble for ofbe gotten up out of Boston before the fee, where every man is for himself and pose the people were to act upon the same ment and an additional verse to the Lord's foremost, they are already safe in his prayer.

The Negro to the Front.

Personally, politically and morally the present Administration is, in many respects, simply contemptible. That the the South should toady to the negroes in order to secure their votes, is not a matter for surprise; but that the National Government should be guilty of such dirty political trickery is certainly enough to surprise us, even if it does not. In all the departments at Washington white men and women have been turned out of clerkships and negroes put in their places; and this was done, not because the white men and women were incompetent or neglectful of their duties, but because it was thought necessary to bind the negro to the Radical party with the cohesive attraction of public plunder. Not content with freeing the negro and giving him the opportunity and the means to educate himself up to a standard of intelligence necessary to fit him for public station, the Government constantly goes out of its way to thrust him forward at the expense of white mer of white men who, as we are often told have "imperiled their lives in defense of

The latest outbreak of "negrophobia the government was the enforcement last week of the order for the employment of negro brick-layers in the navy-yard at Washington, which, of course, necessitates the discharge of white men. We are told that the enforcement of the order resulted n a strike on the part of the brick-layers Union, as might have been expected, but this is not likely to remedy the matter. What does the nincumpoop Borie care for such strikes. If it were a strike among the negroes the department would at once yield the point and let them have their way; but a white man' strike is merely a piece of insolence to the Government, and must be dealt with ac cordingly. And yet, the wishes of these strikers are entitled to some consideration for they are all Radicals of the strictest sect. At a subequent meeting, though, they were inited, and were there in force. During the proceedings one of them offcred the following resolution:

Resolved. That the colored peop ggrieved that the last meeting held for purpose of initiating this movement had entirely ignored them, and that its "managers" owe the colored men an apolgy for having thus insulted them.

The resolution was adopted, the apology was offered and accepted, and all was erene. The "colored people" of Arkansas are not to be trifled with by the white rash which has floated to the surface.

At Old Town Ridge, Phillips county, in the same state, the negroes are largely in the majority, and insist upon the Democratic doctrine that the majority shall rule. Not long since they petitioned "Governor" Clayton to appoint one of their number a justice of the peace; but this petition the "Governor," from some ause or another, neglected to grant; whereupon the petitioners called a public meeting, in order to give their indignant feelings an opportunity to gush, and after nany eloquent speeches denunciatory of the wrong done to Old Town Ridge, the following resolution was adopted nem.

Resolved, That things and circum stances bein as they is, we, the colored popolation of Old Town Ridge, will withaw all our aid and comfort from the U government, lessen Gineral Clayton and Sergent Williams are removed from

An exchange says "the people would be satisfied if Borie even had sense enough to try to manage the affairs of the Navy Department." Certainly they would. Indeed, they would be satisfied if he had sense enough not to try. They are convinced that by far the most graceful offieial act of which he is capable is that of tendering his resignation.

IF Gen. Grant has determined to have his own way about the Alabama claims or fight, isn't it about time he was looking Werne, to inspect his stock of diamonds around for a Secretary of the Navy? There really ought to be somebody at the head of the Navy Department in a case of most complete establishment in America. that sort.

It was said of old that "whom the Gods love die young." An inspired writer has declared of one who has been suddenly snatched sway in youth, what he had bees taken from among men, lest malice should corrupt the purity of his nature.

In dying young, many deaths are escaped—the death of innocence, of the freshness of the heart, the death of innocence, of the freshness of the heart, the death of iriends, the death of all that we most love and cherish. When man lives to an advanced age he is only a fuseral monument, left standing over the world of his youth, which is already buried. Since death is inevitable, is it not a privilege to die when the world his you be suiful, and the heart is still young—whilst the soul still retains its purity and the spirit its buoyancy? A shaden death is a misfortum for those who are unprepared to die; but it eas is innocent and holy, is he not blessed when an all-wise and All-good God allows his soul in an instant, at one bound, the escape from the body of death to commingle with the spirits of heaven?

Our grief for thee, gentie, noble youth, is great, for thy life was beautiful, thy whole being genereus and lovely. Thy avery word, and thy werey ceed, bespoke the lofty mind and the gentle heart that God had given these. If y soul was visible in thy contensance, so frank, so open, so pure that none could look npon the and not love thee. "Just Before the Battle, Mother" From the London Punch. Just before the battle, mother,
Johnny feit unweit;
What was ailing Johnny, mother,
Johnny couldn't teil.
Johnny ran away, mother,
Braving captain's ire,
Johnny can't abide, mother,
Hearing cannons fire.

Johnny came to me, mother, Wasn't Johnny right? Wasn't Johnny right?
Tea with me was nicer, mother,
Than a horrid fight.
Let me marry Johnny mother,
And we'll bless the day,
When just before the battle, mother,

How on Offending Wife Turned the Tables on Her Recreant Husband. The Dubuque Herald tells a queer story of the manner in which a little "unpleas autness" in the family of a prominent gentleman of that city was adjusted, a few nights since. The gentleman belonged to one of the many benevolent societies which flourish in that city, and on the evening in question was delegated to watch by the side of a sick brother... Of this duty he informed his wife, and shortly after left the house. On his way to the residence of the sufferer he met a friend, who volunteered to act for him in the capacity of nurse, which kind offer was ac-

CHASE.

Tammany convention of 1868 Chief Justice Chase would have been the Democratic candidate against General Grant. It is generally believed from the late extraordinary speeches of Senator Sprague on the political situation, and from some recent eisions of the Chief Justice on gold contracts and the fourteenth amendment, that a movement is on foot to keep this distinguished Presidential aspiraut in the foreground as the man of all men for the Democracy in 1872.

We find in our exchanges a published detter on another subject, dated Charleston, May 29, 1869, from the Chief Justice, which may be construed as looking in the same direction. The letter is in response to an invitation to be present at the deco-tion of the graves of the Union dead in Magnolia Cemetery near Charleston; and in his reply, after stating his regrets that it is too late to make the necessary arrangements for an attendance, and after commencing the ceremony, Mr. Chase says: "And may we not indulge the hope that ere long we who adhered to the national cause will be prompt to join in commemorating the heroism of our countrymen who fell on the other side, and that those who now specially mourn their loss, consenting to the abitrament of arms, and resuming all Salnave has abandoned the hope for which purpose a large number of troops is concentrated in the neighborhood of the town. When the attack was about to be made it was discovered that the gunpowder that had been sent down by one of the war vessels was damp and unfit for use. I claim no particular enterprise in the matter, for some information has come into my hands in a very accidental manner, which I can use without compromising anybody, and for the truth of which I will answer. In the first place, Mr. Motley had full and complete instructions, when he sailed from New York, on the 19th instant. These instructions were not of a general character, but were minute and unabridged. They referred not only to naturalization and emigration, and all the matters in interest at present between the two countries, but they were particular two countries, and the truth of which I decided to the Eighth and cfeetive support, I announced my-self acceptive support, I announced my in announcing myself (as others have already done) a candidate without awaiting the sanction of a nomination.

I have resided constantly in Kentucky since the 1st of March, 1867, have been a citizen of Kentucky since the close of the war, or at least since the repeal of the "Expatriation act," and have been a citizen of Louisville for some afteren months. It has been charged that I am the candidate of cortain "cliques." I will state that I made it a condition of accepting the invitation extended me to make the race, that the name of no active and prominent politician should appear upon the instruction aloud to the two gentlemen. They not only approved of all the positions assumed, heartily and emphatically, but they concurred entirely in every expression and the language employed. Not a line nor a word was

CERTAIN REMEDY

FOR EVERY FORM OF

THE CURE IS PERMANENT.

The Chill Once Broken Will Not Return.

Contains No Quinine or Arsenic, nor Any Deleterious Substance Whatever.

This preparation is carefully compounded of purely vegetable ingredients, and never falls, when properly taken, to cure the most obstinate case of fever and ague, neuralgia and ali maiarious diseases. Unlike chili remedles generally, it requires no purgative to be taken with it, the medicine Itseif acting gently and agreeably upon the liver and bowels, effectually removing the cause of the disease, not merely temporarily checking it Herein consists one great advantage it has over all other preparations. The crowning excellence of this remedy, however, above the permanency and certainty of its cure, is he fact that no injury whatever can arise from its use, as is certain to be the case when quinine or arsenic are taken, which are the principal ingredients of most of the chili medicines now in use. Quinine, acting upon the nervous system, produces, according to our best authorities, "a feeling of tightness or distension of the head, ringing, buzzing or roaring in the ears, partial deafness," &c. and, when the dose is increased, "complete dearness, diminution or loss of sight, dilated or immovable pupil, coma, and great prostra tion."

Wintersmith's Tonic Sirup leaves the system in a perfectly healthy condition, with no bad effects in any way to be worn off.

Another great virtue claimed for this medicine, and wherein consists its superiority over other medicines, is that the cure is permanent. It rarely requires more than a day or two to effectually break the chili, and, once broken, they will not return.

Hundreds of letters are daily received testifying to the efficacy and wonderful virtues of this remedy. It is very popular wherever sold, taking the place of any chill remedy it comes in competition with.
